

Notes from Capital City

to be comely and to that James yielded.

When visitors to the islands sought out Jim and engaged him to take them joyriding, sometimes keeping him out late, the almon eyed wife became deaf to Jims assurances of faithfulness, and those who know Jim are convinced of his utter truthfulness. But the wife would not be consoled and the other day when Jim walked into McInernys dressed in a barrel and a last year's overcoat, pedestrians in the early morning sat up and took notice. The wife of his bosom had torn his clothing and thrown them away, or hid those which were not torn. Incidentally she broke a chair or two over his cranium and said some awful things. Following this came the "no trust" notice and, unless all signs fail, there will be a divorce case in due time unless her attempt at suicide in consequence of his desertion, should heal the wound.

A HILO MATTER.

Some months ago, in July last, to be exact, a valuable ruby ring was lost in Hilo by Mrs. Lyman, wife of the Puna tax assessor. Suspicion fell upon several employees of the Hilo Hotel and one man in a garage. The ring could not be traced and though one or two arrests were made the ring did not materialize. The other day it was presented at Wichmans to be cleaned, and was recognized as the one that had been advertised for a month as having been lost. It was held against the protest of the young lady who claimed ownership, saying it had been given her as an engagement ring by her fiancée who had purchased it at a second hand jewelry store, giving the date, which was, of course, subsequent to the date of its loss in Hilo. The donor of the bauble was notified by the young lady and he, in turn, communicated with the police. There the mystery ends, so far as the public is informed. The man who sold the ring to the engaged man is free to do as he likes; the police have done nothing, as far as the public knows, and nothing has been said about the young fellow getting his hundred dollars back. In time there may be a disclosure that will be startling in its consequences.

WHITE JAIL BIRDS.

And this reminds me. Time was when a white man in the prison gang was an exception, now it is almost the rule, not quite you, know, but getting there so rapidly that it soon will be. The other I saw a dapper young man who had just been released after serving six months for gross cheat. Then a man posing as the nephew of Walt McDougall was landed for nine months for giving out bogus checks, and if all of the cases against him had been presented, he would be serving life. Still another, a chap named Ozbern, from Chicago presented checks hither and yon and is in jail waiting developments. He went in to McInerny's, had a suit made to order and bought one ready made, he tendered a check for seventy dollars on the First National Bank of Chicago and like good business men, the McInerny house cabled for particulars and got a reply that landed the young man in jail. These occurrences indicate Honolulu as a Mecca for sure thing bunco men. It will not be long before the presence of a white man in the line will be common.

"BRIBERY" SAYS LINK.

I have just learned that McCandless may protest the election on the other islands on the grounds of bribery. The lack of it may be the reason Link was not elected.

It has been a common saying here that from the Advertiser every knock is a boost. The election of Cathcart two ago years was due to the constant hammering by the paper. This year it was muzzled as Cathcart and the attorney defeated his rival by only two votes. Last time his majority was much larger. It would not have been a surprise to him if he had been defeated; he told his friends there was a chance if the democrats polled a big vote, and that they did. But in spite of the big vote John is in and will continue to administer the duties of the office in the same satisfactory way.

WHY LINK LOST.

It is common talk here that if McCandless had gone a little deeper into his barrel and spent some money on Maui and Hawaii his chances of being delegate would have been brighter. Also it is said that if he had cut the loud-mouthed Barron from his list of retainers he would have polled a larger vote here. Barron was too much for the intelligent people to stand and whenever his name was mentioned, or when he was seen in public spouting for his favorite, most intelligent men were nauseated; they could not disassociate the two men, and feared that the soap box orator would get a place in the National Capitol with the delegate from Hawaii.

The closeness of the vote in some instances surprised everyone, but the republican committee. The members of it were confident, or at least so expressed themselves, from start to finish and even now there is a rumor that the vote was not counted correctly. It may be a case of the worm turning. The public have stood higher cost of living until it is impossible and, through the agencies of the magazines, their eyes have been opened to the fact that the republican party is the party of the trusts and that the trusts have forwarded their own interests to a point that breeds I. W. W. and anarchy. The mainland sweep was unexpected here in Honolulu. T. R. and the Bull Moose party had many supporters, and the money lost in wagers that Roosevelt would win was considerable. And strange to say there was just as much won as lost.

POOR JOE COHEN.

Poor Joe Cohen is the most disappointed man in the county. He really expected to win from the assurances of the many hui's and personal friends and he put up one of the best campaigns in the recollection of politicians but, being independent he had the Big Business against him. I believe he had the liquor interests against him, too, for it is still remembered that he killed a bill in the legislature some years ago when the booze men wanted it to go through. He was under the impression that the Star-Bulletin would support him on the grounds that he is a semi-prohibition man, claiming the title on the result of the bill he killed. But Mr. Atherton said no, when Joe asked him and as Atherton controls that settled it. No one believes that the Anti Saloon radicals did any injury to the candidacy of Bartlett. People voted for him because of that opposition, not because he was considered a better man than some defeated ones. More and more it is being realized in Honolulu that the voter is not to be forced into voting against a candidate just because an interest wishes it; the voters do not want their rights curtailed and the best way, they think, to show their dislike for coercion, is through the ballot.

Auto Notes.

Endurance of car and driver were put to the test in a thrilling cross country run between Chicago and Detroit by J. G. Vincent, the new Chief Engineer of the Packard Motor Car Company. Mr. Vincent, who was returning from the races at Milwaukee, left Chicago with F. H. Trego, Research Engineer of the Packard Company, and a mechanic, at 3:29 A. M. Monday October 7. At 11:32 A. M. their route book was stamped by the Pontchartrain in Detroit. The total elapsed time was eight hours, four minutes; running time, seven hours, forty-seven minutes.

The distance from the Metropole Hotel, Twenty-Third and Michigan, Chicago, to the Pontchartrain Detroit, is 282 miles. Seventeen minutes were consumed in stops for gasoline and tires.

The car, a Packard "48" was driven to Dayton, Ohio from Detroit Wednesday night. The Packard engineers left Dayton Thursday and drove continuously for thirteen hours to Milwaukee, a distance of 395 miles. Arriving in Milwaukee Saturday morning, they went directly to the race course and spent the day. They started for Chicago without having had any sleep since leaving Dayton, and arrived in Detroit showing no signs of strain.

The drive was made without any special preparation but is said to be a record.

Everybody will be at the Paila Store Holiday Opening on Monday, Nov. 18.

The tickets for the Masquerade Ball, to be given by the Catholic Ladies' Aid society, are now on sale. The dance is scheduled for Nov. 27, in the Wailuku Town Hall.
